Strange Murder is Explained By Case of Suicide.

Killing By Michigan Pastor is Charged to Victim Being Hypnotized.

Carthage, Ill., Jan. 14.-Rev. Jno. H. Carmichael, who in the little Methodist church at Battle Run, village carpenter, and then burned his body in a stove, committed suicide here Monday by cutting his throat with a pocket knife. He died at the county hospital after he had been taken from the boarding house of Mrs. Miranda Hughes, where, as a stranger, he had been living since last Friday.

In a long letter found in his suit case Carmichael told in detail the story of the killing of Browning, how he had fallen victim to Browning's hypnotic power and meeting him in church upon the night of the murder was compelled to obey his every command; how finally, when Browning attacked him with knives, he (Carmichael) defended himself with a hatchet. After killing his victim with the hatchet, he said, the red hot stove in the church suggested itself as the best method of disposing of the body, but before putting the body in the stove he exchanged some of the dead man's clothing for his own, which had become bespattered with blood.
